

COIDA

The Compensation for Occupational Injuries and Diseases Act, (130 of 1993), or The COID Act in South Africa, requires all employers, who employ one or more employees, to register with the Compensation Commissioner within 7 working days from the date of first employment.

Registration

- COR14.3
- Proof of Address
- Bank Statement
- Nature of business
- Date 1st employee was employed

Annual ROE

- Employee count for reporting year
- Employees salaries for reporting year
- Director count for reporting year
- Director's salaries for reporting year

Claims

- WCL2 form
- WCL4 form
- WCL5 Form
- Certified ID
- Payslip at time of incident
- CIPC document
- Proof of business address

